

Dilip Soman is Professor of Marketing and holds the Corus chair in Communications Strategy at the Rotman School of Management, University of Toronto. He is the author of over 50 journal articles, book chapters and conference papers in the areas of marketing, decision making and behavioural economics. He is also a sought after consultant and executive trainer. Prior to Rotman, he has taught at the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology and the University of Colorado at Boulder.

Soman's current research interests are eclectic, and in the areas of consumer psychology, pricing, data driven marketing, creativity and innovations, social welfare and developmental economics. He holds an engineering degree from the University of Bombay, an MBA from the Indian Institute of Management and a PhD from the University of Chicago.