

Professor Raymond W Y Kao is currently serving as Adjunct Professor of Entrepreneurism, Michael G DeGroote School of Business, McMaster University, Canada, and Quality Assessor to the Postsecondary Education Quality Assessment Board, Ministry of Training, Colleges and Universities, Government of Ontario, Canada. He has also been conferred the titles of Professor Emeritus, Ryerson University, Canada and Honorary Professor, All China Women's College, Beijing. Professor Kao has also served as Shaw Foundation Professor, Nanyang School of Business, Technological University, Singapore; Professor of Entrepreneurship, University of Toronto; International Human Resources Development Expert, United Nations Industrial Development Organization; President of International Council for Small Business; and Member of Small Business Consultative Committee to the Minister of Small Business, Government of Canada. All his work and publications are dedicated to the philosophy of entrepreneurship, focusing not just on the matters of business interest and entrepreneurship development, but also on stewardship accountability, social and global responsibility.