

Razzaque Bhatti is currently a Professor of Finance at Gulf University for Science and Technology, Kuwait. Before joining Gulf University in September 2004, he was Professor of Finance and Economics at International Islamic University Islamabad. In his capacity as Professor, he also served in a number of administrative positions, including as Dean School of Economics, Director of Research and Training, and Head of Department of Economics and Finance. Professor Bhatti has published refereed articles widely in several top academic journals, including the Journal Applied Economics, Applied Financial Economics, Applied Economics Letters, Scottish Journal of Political Economy, International Economic Studies, Economic Integration, and the International Economic Journal.