

Matthias Scherer is Senior Researcher at the HVB-Institute for Mathematical Finance at the Technische Universität München. With a doctorate from the University of Ulm, he coordinates the elite-graduate programme, "Finance and Information Management" and teaches various courses in mathematical finance. His research focus lies on credit-risk modelling, multivariate models, and dependence concepts.