

Leonard C MacLean is the Herbert S Lamb Chair in Business at the School of Business Administration, Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada. His research interests include stochastic optimization models in finance, and models for repairable systems in aviation, funded by grants from the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada.