

CONTENTS

Preface.....ix

PART ONE: CONTEXTS AND PERSPECTIVES

1. Testing and evaluation in language teaching.....	3
1.1 Aims and scope of this course
1.2 Testing, evaluation and teaching: terms and contexts
1.3 Controversies and constraints
1.4 Fundamentals and directions
1.5 Chapter summary and course overview
• Further reading
2. Evaluating language.....	22
2.1 Descriptions, prescriptions and points of view
2.2 Correctness and appropriateness
2.3 Teaching spoken and written language
2.4 Comprehension teaching and divergent interpretations
2.5 Purposes for evaluating learners' language
2.6 Chapter summary
• Further reading
3. Describing and measuring language ability.....	42
3.1 What is language ability like?
3.2 A point of departure: the "four skills" model
3.3 Oller's Unitary Competence Hypothesis and its legacy
3.4 Canale and Swain's model and later developments
3.5 Bachman's model of communicative language ability
3.6 Models and language curricula
3.7 Chapter summary
• Further reading

4. Evaluating language curricula.....	57
4.1 Purposes and audiences for evaluations
4.2 Curriculum goals and educational outcomes
4.3 Internal and external evaluations
4.4 Formative and summative evaluations
4.5 Triangulation and saturation
4.6 Evaluation and teacher development
4.7 Chapter summary
• Further reading
5. Testing in language classes.....	72
5.1 Testing and teaching purposes
5.2 Purposes and types of test
5.3 Formal and informal testing
5.4 Achievement testing and proficiency testing
5.5 Norm-referenced tests and criterion-referenced tests
5.6 The importance of washback
5.7 Reliability, validity and usefulness
5.8 Chapter summary
• Further reading

PART TWO: ISSUES AND PRACTICES

6. Evaluation procedures and instruments.....	95
6.1 Designing an evaluation: purposes, constraints, choices
6.2 Observing teachers and learners
6.3 Obtaining and analysing examples of learner language
6.4 Evaluating course materials and documentation
6.5 Designing and analysing questionnaires
6.6 Planning, conducting and interpreting interviews
6.7 Reviewing and reporting the evidence
6.8 Chapter summary
• Further reading

7. Language testing procedures and instruments.....	114
7.1 Selecting or designing tests: purposes, constraints, choices
7.2 Testing speaking
7.3 Testing listening
7.4 Testing reading
7.5 Testing writing
7.6 Testing vocabulary, grammar and pronunciation
7.7 Aggregating or integrating procedures and data
7.8 Using tests wisely
7.9 Chapter summary
• Further reading
8. Skills and subskills.....	144
8.1 How are skills and subskills identified?
8.2 Speaking
8.3 Listening
8.4 Reading
8.5 Writing
8.6 Implications
8.7 Chapter summary
• Further reading
9. Tasks and genres.....	159
9.1 Tasks and traits
9.2 Task types and genres
9.3 Tasks and curricula
9.4 Identifying genres: why and who?
9.5 Further implications: genres, styles and curricula
9.6 Chapter summary
• Further reading

10. Performance criteria and rater judgements.....	174
10.1 Raters, judgements and criteria
10.2 Rating scales
10.3 Agreement and disagreement
10.4 Rater training and moderation procedures
10.5 How necessary is rater convergence?
10.6 Implications
10.7 Chapter summary
• Further reading
11. Professionalism in language teaching.....	201
11.1 Why call for professionalism?
11.2 Professionalism in assessment and evaluation
11.3 Ethical issues and good practice
11.4 Learner language as evidence
11.5 Chapter summary
• Further reading
Appendix.....	219
Glossary.....	227
References (with select annotated bibliography).....	237