Preface		v
Part I	Introduction: Exploring the Role of Technology in Knowledge Management
Chapter 1	The Rise of Knowledge Management: In Pursuit of Excellence	3
	1.1 Introduction	4
	1.2 Drivers of KM	5
	1.3 Outcomes of KM	11
	1.4 KM Frameworks	13
	1.5 Conclusions	17
	References	17
Chapter 2	Managing Knowledge with Technology: Mission Possible	21
	2.1 Introduction	22
	2.2 Technology and Integrated KM	23
	2.3 Categorisation of Technology Roles	25
	2.4 Issues and Challenges for Practice and Research	32
	2.5 Conclusions	35
	References	36

Part II	Codification Technologies: Supporting Knowledge Storage and Finding
Chapter 3	Web-based Knowledge Records:
	Empowering Societies	41
	3.1 Introduction	42
	3.2 The World Wide Web	43
	3.3 The Concept of Knowledge Record	44
	3.4 Case study: Exploring Australian Web Sites	45
	3.5 Issues and Challenges	50
	3.6 Australian Standard Guidelines	52
	3.7 Conclusions	53
	References	54
Chapter 4	Structured Knowledge Repositories:
	Building Corporate Memories	57
	4.1 Introduction	58
	4.2 Concept of Knowledge Repository	59
	4.3 Facilitating Knowledge Extraction from Repositories	60
	4.4 Empirical Study	63
	4.5 Lessons Learned	67
	4.6 Conclusions	70
	References	70
Chapter 5	Knowledge Maps: Locating and Acquiring Expert Advice	73
	5.1 Introduction	74
	5.2 Understanding Knowledge Maps	75
	5.3 Competency Map Description	78
	5.4 Empirical Test	79
	5.5 Conclusions	85
	References	86

Chapter 6	Knowledge Discovery Tools: Application in Associations Analysis	89
	6.1 Introduction	90
	6.2 Knowledge Discovery from Data	91
	6.3 Empirical Study	93
	6.4 Lessons Learned	98
	6.5 Conclusions	101
	References	102
Part III	Personalisation Technologies: Supporting Knowledge Creation and Sharing
Chapter 7	Interactive Idea Generator: Stimulating Creative Thinking	109
	7.1 Introduction	110
	7.2 Creativity in Decision-Making	111
	7.3 Tool Description	115
	7.4 Tool Evaluation	118
	7.5 Conclusions	122
	References	123
Chapter 8	Electronic Mentor: Fostering Knowledge Development	125
	8.1 Introduction	126
	8.2 Learning from Feedback and Guidance	127
	8.3 Empirical Study	130
	8.4 Conclusions	135
	References	136
Chapter 9	Knowledge Sharing Technology: To E-talk Or Not to E-talk?	141
	9.1 Introduction	142
	9.2 Technologies for Knowledge Sharing	143
	9.3 Empirical Study	145
	9.4 Conclusions	150
	References	151

Chapter 10	Virtual Reality Model: Visualising Social Networks	153
	10.1 Introduction	154
	10.2 Visualisation	154
	10.3 Virtual Reality Model Description	156
	10.4 Tool Application	161
	10.5 Conclusions	166
	References	167
Part IV	Complete KM Solutions: Integrated Systems and Technologies
Chapter 11	Web Course Technology: Creating Virtual Knowledge Spaces	171
	11.1 Introduction	172
	11.2 A Conceptual Model of Virtual k-Space	173
	11.3 k-Space Design Features	175
	11.4 Empirical Evaluation	180
	11.5 Conclusions	186
	References	187
Chapter 12	Simulation Game: Adventures in Knowledgeland	189
	12.1 Introduction	190
	12.2 Contingency Factors	190
	12.3 Game Description	198
	12.4 Lessons Learned	201
	12.5 Conclusions	203
	References	204
Chapter 13	Internet Portals: Supporting Online Communities of Practice	207
	13.1 Introduction	208
	13.2 Portal Technology	209
	13.3 Case Study: ActKM Community of Practice	210
	13.4 Conclusions	218
	References	218

Chapter 14	Total Knowledge Management System: Combining Technological and Social Aspects	221
	14.1 Introduction	222
	14.2 Social Aspects of KMS	223
	14.3 Empirical Study	228
	14.4 Conclusions	232
	References	233
Part V	Issues and Challenges: Present and Future
Chapter 15	Towards Knowledge Management Practice: How to Get There?	239
	15.1 Introduction	240
	15.2 Review of Leading KM Frameworks	240
	15.3 Guidelines for Conducting KM in Organisations	244
	15.4 Illustrative Cases	246
	15.5 Conclusions	250
	References	251
Chapter 16	The Future of Knowledge Management: What Is on the Horizon?	255
	16.1 Introduction	256
	16.2 Automation: Intelligent Systems That Apply Knowledge	257
	16.3 Integration: Merging of E-commerce and Knowledge Management	261
	16.4 The Final Word	265
	References	266
