List of Illustrations	ix
Preface	xi
Chapter 1. Introduction: Individuation and the Quest for Unity	1
Chapter 2. The Obstacle to Unification in Modern Physics	11
2.1 Introduction	11
2.2 Does Contemporary Mathematical Physics Actually Depart from the Classical Formulation?	15
2.2.1 Apparent concretization of mathematical physics via symmetry breaking	15
2.2.2 The implicit attempt to maintain the classical formula and its ultimate failure	20
Chapter 3. The Phenomenological Challenge to the Classical Formula	42
Chapter 4. Topological Phenomenology	63
4.1 Introduction	63
4.2 Phenomenological Intuition, Topology, and the Klein Bottle	69
4.3 The Physical Significance of the Klein Bottle	78
4.3.1 Spin	78
4.3.2 Vorticity	81
Chapter 5. The Dimensional Family of Topological Spinors	90
5.1 Generalization of Intuitive Topology	90
5.2 Topodimensional Spin Matrix	106
Chapter 6. Basic Principles of Dimensional Transformation	116
6.1 Synsymmetry and the Self-Transformation of Space	116
6.2 From Symmetry Breaking to Dimensional Generation	120

6.3	The Three Basic Stages of Dimensional Generation	123
6.4	Kleinian Topogeny	130
Chapter 7.	Waves Carrying Waves: The Co-Evolution of Lifeworlds	147
Chapter 8.	The Forces of Nature	162
8.1	The Phenomenon of Light	162
8.2	Phenomenological Kaluza-Klein Theory	166
8.3	Summary Comparison of Conventional and Topo-Phenomenological Approaches to Kaluza-Klein Theory	175
Chapter 9.	Cosmogony, Symmetry, and Phenomenological Intuition	178
9.1	Conventional View of the Evolving Cosmos	178
9.2	The Problem of Symmetry	180
9.3	A New Kind of Clarity	186
Chapter 10.	The Self-Evolving Cosmos	196
10.1	Introduction to the Cosmogonic Matrix	196
10.2	Overview of Cosmic Evolution	197
10.3	The Role of the Fermions in Dimensional Generation	207
10.4	Projective Stages of Cosmogony: Dimensional Divergence	212
	10.4.1 Stage 1	212
	10.4.2 Stage 2	214
	10.4.3 Stages 3 and 4	220
10.5	Proprioceptive Stages of Cosmogony: Dimensional Convergence	221
10.6	Conclusion: Wider Horizons of Cosmic Evolution	226
Chapter 11.	The Psychophysics of Cosmogony	229
11.1	Psychical Aspects of the Fundamental Particles	229
11.2	Toward a Reflexive Physics	237
11.3	Concretization of the Self-Evolving Cosmos	244
