

CONTENTS

Introduction	ix
Tom Oskar Martin Kronsjo: A Profile	xiii
Biography of Contributors	xvii
About the Editor	xxi
Part 1. Growth and Development	1
1. The Sustained Growth and Its Relation to the Initial Conditions	3
Makoto Takashima
2. Population and Poverty: A General Equilibrium Approach	29
Mats Lundahl
3. Immigration, Output, and Welfare in a Growth Model	51
Partha Sen
Part 2. Labor Market and Economic Policy	61
4. Inter-Governmental Monetary Cooperation and International Migration of Labor	63
Akira Shimada
5. Getting Tough with Workers: More on the Strategic Role of Debt	87
Gerald Garvey and Noel Gaston

Part 3. Resource Allocation, Conflicts, and Resolutions	107
6. Equitable and Decentralized Solutions for the Allocation of Indivisible Objects	109
Somdeb Lahiri
7. Planning, Competition, and Cooperation: The Scope for Negotiated Settlements	119
Stephen Littlechild
8. The Role of Relationship Banking on the Performance of Firms in Bangladesh	125
Shigeru Uchida and Sarwar Uddin Ahmed
Part 4. Policy Modeling	153
9. Structural Adjustment Program and Public Fiscal Policy in India, 1990–1995	155
Dipak R. Basu
Part 5. Policy Analysis	185
10. Openness to Trade and the Poverty of Female-Headed Households in Turkey	187
Oner Guncavdi and Raziye Selim
11. China's Economic Performance and Transition in Relation to Globalization: From Isolation to Center-Stage	211
Clem Tisdell
Part 6. Globalization and International Business	233
12. Globalization and Creation of Organizational Citizenship in the Developing Countries: A Case Study of Toyota in India	235
Victoria Miroshnik
Index	259