

CONTENTS

Foreword: by Professor Roberta Michnick Golinkoff, Ph. D. 6

Preface: Play or Enrichment? A Perfectly Reasonable Question 9

SERIES INTRODUCTION

The Seed in the Palm of Your Hand

- i) Consider the Bamboo — a Lesson in Preparation 24
- ii) A Rose by Any Other Name... 24
- iii) Is there Life beyond the Hot-house? 25
- iv) The Bonsai — Art, or Arrested Development? 26
- v) Why the Bamboo? 27
- vi) The Power of 'Child's Play' 28
- vii) Managing Change 30
- viii) Expanding the 'Comfort Zone' 31
- ix) The 'Key Roots' 32

CHAPTER ONE

The Science: What Research Tells Us About the Needs of a Child

SACHA

- A: Attachment and Bonding: Planting the Seed 39
- i) The Power of a Hug 39
 - ii) What Is Attachment Theory? 39
 - iii) What Is Bonding? 40
 - iv) How Much Bonding Is Enough? 41
 - v) What If I Have More Than One Child? 43
 - vi) Are All Fun Family Experiences Bonding Experiences? 44
 - vii) Characteristics of Children and Adults with Secure Attachment 45
 - viii) How Do Parents of Securely-Attached Children Behave? 45
 - ix) Bonding — the Easiest Parenting Task of All! 46
 - x) To Do (Exercises) 46

B: A Hierarchy of Needs: First Things First — I Can't Be a Genius If I'm Hungry!	46
i) All That a Human Being Needs Can Be Found in a Pyramid!	47
ii) Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs	47
iii) But What Do All These Labels Mean?	48
iv) Attachment, Bonding and Maslow	50
v) So Many Needs!	50
vi) SEEs and Maslow's Needs	51
vii) To Do (Exercises)	52

CHAPTER TWO

The Physical Needs: Understanding Your Child's Basic Physical Needs — Healthy Development Through Sensible Decision-Making

TYLER

Restating the Obvious	60
A: Sleep Strategies for Parents: In Defence of Sleep	61
i) Sleep, Concentration and Memory Formation	61
ii) Growth and Repair	62
iii) Behaviours of Tired Children	62
iv) Tired Children Struggle Academically	63
v) Better Sleepers Are Better Readers and Learners	63
vi) How Much Sleep Does My Child Need?	64
vii) How Do We Develop Good Sleep Habits?	65
viii) 'Wind-Down' Aids	66
B: Healthy Nutrition: How to Encourage Your Pre-schooler to Enjoy Healthy Food	68
i) Quit Clowning Around with Nutrition — Managing Marketing and the Mass Media	68
ii) So, What Are Healthy Foods?	71
iii) A Word about Carbs...	72
iv) What About G.I.?	73
v) How to Encourage Positive Food Choices	74
vi) To Do	80

C: The Many Benefits of Laughter: Giggles that make the 'Grey-Matter' Grow!	84
i) Laughter and Learning	84
ii) The Physiological Benefits of Laughter	86
iii) The Health Benefits of Laughter	86
iv) Incongruity and Laughter — Humour as Training for Creative Thinking	87
v) 'Silliness' — a Building Block of Social Skills, Cognition and Creativity	88
vi) How to Make Your Child Laugh at Any Age	88
vii) Language Games to Make Children Laugh	89
viii) Practising the Gift	91
ix) To Do	91
D: Getting Your Child Moving: The Importance of Exercise in Early Childhood	92
i) First, the Science	92
ii) Guidelines	93
iii) What Is Structured Play?	94
iv) To Do	95
E: The Importance of the 'D' Factor: The 'Dark Side of Tanning' — the Bright Side of U-V Radiation	97
i) Why Is It So?	98
ii) The 'D' Factor	98
iii) Playing It Safe	99

CHAPTER THREE

The Emotional Needs: The Power of Mindset — Building a Healthy and Resilient Self-Image in Your Child

ADDIE

Reflections 108

'Winners' and 'Champions' — Are They the Same Thing? 109

A: Mindset: Laying the Foundations of Championship 111

Playground 111

i) The Elements of Mindset 112

ii) Memory and Emotion 114

iii) So, What Do We Learn from Observing a Group of Children at Play in a Public Park? 115

iv) To Do 117

B: Bouncing Back: How to Encourage Emotional Resilience in Your Child 118

i) What is Emotional Resilience? 119

ii) Promoting Emotional Resilience Skills 120

iii) Three Resilience Domains 124

iv) A Changing World Requires Resilience 125

v) To Do 125

C: Impulse Control and Life Success: How to Help Your Children Take Control of Their Impulses 126

i) A Famous Impulse-Control Experiment 127

ii) What is Impulse Control? 127

iii) How Can Parents Help Children to Develop Impulse Control? 128

iv) Growing Out of Impulsive Behaviour 131

v) To Do 132

D: Points of View: Strategies to Help Your Child See through the Eyes of Others... 132

i) Seeing the World through Your Children's Eyes 133

ii) First, Second and Third Positions 134

iii) Playing with Viewpoints 136

iv) To Do 137

E: Knowing When to ‘Step Back’: How to Let Your Children Flourish 137

GRACIE

- i) The Media and Parental Anxiety 139
- ii) The ‘Sometimes Risky’ Physical Nature of Early Childhood Learning 139
- iii) How Do I Know If I’m Being an Over-protective Parent? 140
- iv) Can Being Over-protective Harm Children? 140
- v) How Can Parents Avoid Being Over-protective? 142
- vi) Over-protective or an Advocate? 142
- vii) To Do 144

CHAPTER FOUR

The Social Needs: Fostering Effective Communication and Social Skills

OLIVER

A: The Four Golden Rules for Inspired and Inspiring Communication: Learning and Teaching Champion Communication Skills 149

- i) Golden Rule Number One: Be Aware of the Young Person’s ‘Processing Limitations’ 150
- ii) Golden Rule Number Two: Give Your Full Attention to All the Possibilities in a Communication Situation — No Matter What the Distractions 155
- iii) Golden Rule Number Three: Provide Support While Encouraging Independence 156
- iv) Golden Rule Number Four: Develop Strategies for Controlling the Negative Emotion in Any Situation 158
- v) To Do 161

B: The Simple Art of Saying What You Mean: Language Strategies for Parents 161

- i) The Pre-school Years Are a Time When Language Blossoms! 162
- ii) The Non-conscious and Conscious Minds — When ‘No’ Means ‘Yes’ 162
- iii) So, How Do We Say What We Mean? 164
- iv) To Do 165

C: Self-Fulfilling Prophecies: How Your Child Lives Up (and Down) to Your Expectations	166
i) Expectations Create Results	166
ii) Kate	168
iii) Young Children Behave As We Expect Them to Behave	169
iv) To Do	170
D: The Art of Praising and Criticising with Honesty: Simple Language Strategies for Parents	171
i) The Use of 'Descriptive Praise'	172
ii) Constructive Criticism — Using 'I' Statements, Rather Than 'You' Statements	173
iii) To Do	174
E: Positive Discipline: 'Spare the Rod' — and Promote Self-Discipline in Your Child	174
i) The Purpose of Discipline	175
ii) So, What Is Discipline?	176
iii) How Do I Discipline My Child in a Positive Way?	178
iv) Positive Preparation	178
v) Positive Discipline Strategies	184
Conclusion: Where to from Here?	191
Bibliography	193
Endnotes	196

