

Introduction

This brief introduction is a tribute to my two mentors: Professor Britton Chance and the late Professor Bo Thorell.

It was Professor Chance's dream to make possible a synthesis between biophysics and cellular pathology. It was Professor Thorell's dream to expand the document represented by the hematoxylin-eosin stained Virchow slide into a portfolio of documents meaningful in terms of dynamic cellular pathology. This book represents a step towards the realization of such dreams.

Elli Kohen