

Wu Weishan is the President of the Chinese Academy of Sculpture and a Professor at Nanjing University. He graduated from Nanjing Normal University and did his postgraduate studies at Beijing University and Washington University. He is a member of the Royal British Society of Sculptors and the Society of Portrait Sculptors, UK.

Since 1998, Wu Weishan's sculptures and paintings have been exhibited in the UK, US, Canada, Korea, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan and the United Nations. Among his numerous international awards is the 2003 Pangolin Award by the Society of Portrait Sculptors, UK. He has published 2 books and 15 types of picture albums (in Chinese). His art works are in the collections of fine art galleries and museums in China, the Netherlands, Honolulu, Paris, etc. There is a permanent gallery of Wu Weishan's sculptures of cultural celebrities in Nanjing Museum, China.